

A Strange Dream

Sunday 8th May

warm and sunny

I had a strange dream last night. I met Princess Cindy in my dream. She was walking towards the haunted woods. I felt scared and worried so I followed Princess Cindy closely.

When we almost reached the end of the woods, we saw a purple dragon. It was snoring loudly, and it was huge too! I felt frightened so I hid in a bush. I tried my best to avoid the dragon from seeing me. Then, I saw Princess Cindy stealing the dragon's egg quietly. She wanted the dragon's egg because she desperately wanted to keep a dragon as a pet in her castle.

Princess Cindy dropped the dragon egg accidentally when she moved the egg away from the dragon. The noise woke the dragon up. The dragon then saw Princess Cindy and me. It roared angrily and it started to chase us. I got so scared that my heart missed a beat. We climbed up to a tree to hide. The dragon stopped running when it reached to the tree and searched for us. Princess Cindy and I held our breath and tried hard to stay calm.

The dragon kept looking for us everywhere. It stayed under the tree. Princess Cindy asked, "We can't get out of here, what should we do?" I told her to drop the egg so the dragon would no longer search for us and it would return to the haunted woods. By that time, we could leave the woods safely. Princess Cindy listened to me carefully and agreed with my idea.

Princess Cindy then dropped the egg down from the tree. The dragon grabbed the egg and walked back to the woods contentedly.

I learnt that I shouldn't take others' things without permission from this dream.
