

A Strange Dream

Sunday, 8th May warm and sunny

I had a strange dream last night. I met a beautiful princess. She had blonde wavy hair and she was wearing a beautiful dress. She asked me to follow her into the forest, I was excited. We walked towards a big scary dragon with a conical horn and pointed sharp teeth.

When we were very close to the dragon, it was snoring very loudly. She said that I should hide behind a bush while she went to steal the egg. She said that her mother was suffering from an illness and she heard that the egg was a cure.

She was so close to getting the egg but then she dropped it carelessly. The noise woke up the dragon and it roared at us angrily. I felt very anxious.

Suddenly, the dragon grabbed the princess in its mouth and would not let go, so I took a pocket knife out of my bag and stabbed the dragon. The dragon fell to the ground and I saved the princess. I woke up in shock. I learnt from that day on to always help a friend in need and to be honest, never steal things.
