

The Terrible Kitchen

David and his family went to Good Food Restaurant in Central yesterday. The weather was beautiful.

David and his family were very lucky. They were seated at a table that was in front of the sea view of Victoria Harbour. When David was having the first dish, he felt not well so he went to the boys washroom.

After coming out from the washroom, David walked back to the table slowly. On his way, David saw a room that was full of cockroaches and a chef who dressed professionally. The chef was killing the cockroaches with one hand and he was holding a cigarette in another. His face looked funny. "The kitchen is so dirty! It is gross!" David screamed because he was afraid of cockroaches. The chef felt embarrassed and he closed the door at once.

David ran back to his table quickly, "Oh! That's terrible!" he told his parents what he saw and brought them to the kitchen. They believed what David told them and they talked to the restaurant manager about the condition of the kitchen angrily. David and his family were so angry that they left the restaurant at once.
