

My Best Friend

We love to play with our friends, and making friends is easy. However, I think it is hard to find a very good friend. Luckily, I have one.

Yani is the bravest and gentlest person I know. One time, she joined a speech contest and she didn't feel nervous at all! She spoke fluently and became the champion! I wish I could speak in public confidently like her.

Her hair style is like a mushroom. Her eyes are the biggest in her class. She always claims that she is more beautiful than Snow White. To me, she has a beautiful and sincere heart which I admire most. She is the most beautiful girl in the world as she listens to me when I am upset and comforts me when I regret for my mistakes.

She is also cute and humorous. She always tries to act like Disney characters and I can't help laughing.

Yani is sporty but I am not. She runs as fast as a leopard that I can only look at her back. We may be different but we feel the same. We love each other and we will forgive each other. No matter what happens, I will treasure our friendship forever.
