A Day in the Park

21 October, Friday

Last week, Mum, Dad and I went to Chai Wan Park. It was nice and sunny.

When we arrived at the park, Emma and I wanted to do different things. She wanted to play hide-and-seek, but I wanted to eat ice-cream. So, I went to the tuck shop and got myself a chocolate ice-cream. When I returned, Emma tried to grab my ice-cream, so I pulled back. She continued to push, and my ice-cream dropped. She said it was my fault. I was furious so I shouted at her. But she said it was my fault again. I got even angrier, so I pushed her and she fell onto the ground.

In the end, our parents scolded us both and took away all our pocket money! We both said sorry to each other and promised to talk nicely to each other no matter what. I learned that we should communicate with each other and not get angry easily.
